Pennsylvania Beauty Pro's Expo

Dear Beauty Industry Professionals,

Thank you everyone who attended and participated in the Pennsylvania Beauty Pro's Expo 2023 last year. It was amazing to have so many attend our "comeback show" and we are proud to bring the Pennsylvania Beauty Pro's Expo 2024 back again this year. The Expo will be an every 2 year event so you DON'T miss this year's show.

We appreciate all the support from those of you who'll be attending the PA Beauty Pro's Expo this year, especially, those of you who are educating and displaying. In order to continue to have shows stay in the region we are asking beauty professionals to come together and help spread the word before, during, and after the event. We look forward to seeing everyone of you at the beautiful Seven Springs Mountain Resort.

Thank you sincerely,
Tracey Napotnik - Salontraining.com

How Not to Be a Jerk!

It is so "old school" to think that if you want something done right, you must do it yourself. Collaboration is a beautiful thing!

Unfortunately, sometimes you can be such a JERK to work with that no one wants to help you, so you're right—you do have to do things yourself. Or you may not be a jerk, but people think you are. Agree or disagree, you need to "own" that perception and do something about it.

Knowing how to bring out the best in everyone you work with will take your career, happiness, and influence to amazing new heights.

In this seminar, you will learn:

- How to bring out the best in others
- You don't have to be the smartest and most talented person if you learn how to collaborate
- Why you might be difficult to work with and fail to attract the best people
- How to create a salon and business culture that team members and customers want to belong to

TrainU; Elevate your in-salon training program. Systems to create, maintain, implement and launch your in-salon education program!

During this class, you will learn to create a roadmap for your salon team to follow in implementing your in-salon education program.

We are at a turning point in our industry, with state regulations changing and hours for cosmetology students being shortened. This creates less-prepared graduates entering our industry.

This leaves us salon owners with the responsibility to train our team much further and with higher focus than before. It is up to us as leaders to create a clear education path to develop our next generation!

If you have an education program already in place, ask yourself these 3 questions:

1. When was the last time you updated your in-salon education?
2. Is it consistently delivering well-trained stylists on to the floor?
3. Is it timely and meets the demand of your financial goals?

If your answer to any of these 3 questions was less than favorable, come see if I can help you elevate and update your program.

If you don't really have a program, not one that you see the results you want over and over again, then it's a MUST for you to come join me in this conversation!

TrainU is going to change and upgrade your education game by helping you create, maintain, implement and launch your in-salon education program.

Angel del Solar - Cocco Hair Professional

Master the Art of Hair Reproduction

Angel is known as one of the OG's in the hairdressing industry. With almost 40 years of hands-on experience, Angel has mastered precision cutting, French cutting, condensed cutting, and free form cutting. Over the last 10 years, Angel has worked on putting together a cutting system using the method of Deconstruction.

Deconstruction teaches hairdressers and barbers to look at the hair cut differently and to deconstruct each aspect of the haircut. Once you learn how to deconstruct the haircut, Angel then teaches a systematic process on how to most efficiently and effectively reproduce the same hair cut.

This class is a must for all advanced hairdresser and barbers that want to keep up with the demand of customers asking for specific haircuts and styles! Learn from the Hair Bender Master and you will never see hair the same way again!

Phillip & Mary Wilson - Wilson Collective

EXPLORING THE WILSON METHOD

Phillip Wilson, Creative Director and creator of The Wilson Method of Haircutting will demonstrate why the Wilson Method is fast, efficient and exciting for clients. Learn to master the perfect 7 min. BOB.

Phillip trained with the Grand Masters of Europe AND WITH Vidal Sassoon, who pioneered precision hair cutting, in the UK where Phillip was born and raised. He wanted to balance his cuts and be different than everyone else, so, he combined all he learned to create his way of cutting hair.

When he moved to North America in the 90s and began to work with L'anza, he combined the understanding of head shape, movement and design lines from the precision training and the art and flow of the free flowing, lower tension cutting of the likes of Alexander of Paris into his now iconic "Wilson Method."

WHAT IS IT?

The Wilson Method uses tools such as twin combs, and twin brushes to manage and direct a large amount of hair at one time into a specific area to create over-direction, with low tension and place the guideline in one single line. Example working in the center back, you can bring all of the hair back to the center with twin combs. (They are all large teeth to create even tension) The Center back is your shortest point and the hair gets long as it moves toward the face. (over-direction) You can create as steep or as shallow of graduation (layering) that you want based on the angle (tilt) of your combs. If the top of the combs is tilted out and down then your graduation is minimal. If the combs are standing up with a slight tilt, your graduation is steep.

Perfect the Prep

Preparing the natural nail is imperative to creating a long-lasting nail enhancement. Whether you are sculpting extensions, performing a structured manicure, or simply applying gel polish, taking the time to prepare and protect the natural nail is essential.

What is the key to perfecting the prep with an e-file? EDUCATION – you must know your limits and boundaries, and you have to take the time and make the investment in hands-on classes to build not only your knowledge, but your confidence.

A nail tech with an e-file and no education is extremely dangerous, and the main reason clients are often “afraid” of the e-file. In this class we will cover different types of e-files, different types of bits, and gain a better understanding of torque and rpms and why that is so important.

As you increase your level of education and experience, you will build the confidence to expand your boundaries and have the ability to do more detailed work safely and with precision.

How to Make Philanthropy a Business Builder

Individuals in the beauty industry have the biggest hearts. Our industry is all about serving others. I believe that there is a way to serve others, help promote your business and positively impact your bottom line.

I will tell you that during the 30 years I spent as a hairdresser behind the chair, not once did a media outlet ever reach out to me and say "I heard that you are doing an awesome haircut and hilite today, and we want to come and do a story on you!" Not once did that ever happen.

But I can not tell you about the number of times that we have received media coverage on the work that our salon and other salons in our program have received, because of the impact that they are making as a part of Hello Gorgeous!

Giving back to your community is so important.

Here are a few things that will be covered in this class

- How to stand out in the crowded salon world
- How to find a non-profit that aligns with the mission of your salon
- How coming together to serve others can improve the culture in your salon environment.

How can making a social impact in your community positively affect the bottom line of your business.

TrainU; Elevate your in-salon training program. Systems to create, maintain, implement and launch your in-salon education program!

Learn to create a roadmap for your salon team to follow in implementing your in-salon education program. We are at a turning point in our industry, with state regulations changing and hours for cosmetology students being shortened. This creates less-prepared graduates entering our industry. This leaves us salon owners with the responsibility to train our team much further and with higher focus than before. It is up to leaders to create a clear education path to develop our next generation!

If you have an education program already in place, ask yourself these 3 questions:

1. When was the last time you updated your in-salon education? 2. Is it consistently delivering well-trained stylists on to the floor? 3. Is it timely and meets the demand of your financial goals?

If your answer to any of these 3 questions was less than favorable, come see if I can help you elevate and update your program. If you don't really have a program, not one that you see the results you want over and over again, then it's a MUST for you to come join me in this conversation! TrainU is going to change and upgrade your education game by helping you create, maintain, implement and launch your in-salon education program.

How to Make Philanthropy a Business Builder

Individuals in the beauty industry have the biggest hearts. Our industry is all about serving others. I believe that there is a way to serve others, help promote your business and positively impact your bottom line.

During my 30 years working behind the chair not once did a media outlet ever reach out to me and say “I heard that you are doing an awesome haircut today, and we want to come and do a story on you!” But I can not tell you about the number of times that we have received media coverage on the work that our salon and others received, because of the impact that they are making.

Giving back to your community is so important.

Here are a few things that will be covered in this class

- How to stand out in the crowded salon world.
- How to find a non-profit that aligns with your mission.
- How coming together to serve others can improve the culture in your salon environment.

How can making a social impact in your community positively affect the bottom line of your business

Although intimidating, bridal hair does not have to scare you! In this class, we will break down all the parts of a bridal updo, half-up do or down style to create simplicity for you, your bridal team and your brides!

We will be demonstrating a few techniques to help you create beautiful styles in less time and with less fuss. You will learn what products and tools we use to work smarter, not harder when it comes to achieving any requested look from a bride or bridal party.

We will also go over ways to help create a contract for weddings and make a seamless booking process for both in salon and on location weddings, as well as tips for getting your team prepared to put out their best work!

The more you are prepared before going on location or having a bridal party come to your salon, the better your results will be and less stressed you feel before, during and after!

THE one system to drive Prebook and Retail: Hello Happiness

Happy team, happy clients, happy company.

When we focus on prebook and retail, the two critical systems that build productivity and financial growth, happiness is the outcome for everyone. In other words, happiness is not just an emotion, it's a system!

Join Michael Yost as he walks you through the steps and actions to take directly back to your company to impact these key areas. The key to the system is that it is personalized to fit your business and not just a robotic process resulting in frustration for all involved.

We will also identify where the most common failures lie in getting engagement and results in the areas of prebook and retail.

The end result will produce consistency in actions and results for team members and the company.

LeeAnn Miley - The Sovereign Stylist

Brush Away the Silence on Domestic and Sexual Violence

LeeAnn Miley's journey from veteran cosmetologist to the founder and executive director of The Sovereign Stylist is truly inspiring. Her personal experience with domestic abuse has transformed her into a dedicated warrior against domestic/sexual violence, empowering stylists to recognize their crucial role in helping victims.

LeeAnn's resilience, courage, and dedication make her a beacon of hope for survivors and a force for change within the beauty industry. Her tireless efforts to educate and empower stylists are not only transforming individual lives but also reshaping the culture of the industry as a whole, ensuring that every stylist is equipped to be a compassionate ally in the fight against domestic/sexual violence.

In this training you will learn:

- Different types of domestic/sexual violence;
- How to recognize patterns of abuse in your clients;
- How to create a safe space in the salon and in your chair;
- How to respond appropriately when someone discloses to you;
- How to build community partnerships;
- Self-care for beauty professionals; and
- Where to find additional continuing education and other resources.

By addressing these topics, beauty professionals can not only become more informed about domestic/sexual violence but also feel empowered to play a role in supporting and advocating for their clients' well-being.
